Queen Irma I Rules Today

Proclaimed Last Night; Will Be Crowned Today

By Betty Meyer

"You think about it, but you don't think it's going to happen to you!" exclaimed Irma Niederwimmer, who was revealed as the 1956 Homecoming Queen at Kastle Kapers last night.

Pretty, stately Irma, senior from Allison, will be crowned during this afternoon's game with Central by Mrs. Charles Bose (Mary Hoh), last year's reigning queen.

Attending Queen Irma will be two seniors, Joan Oltman and Jean Margheim, twin sisters from Rock Falls, Ill., and two juniors, Beverly Shreve from Greene and Sharon Folkerts from Manson.

Student Body Selects

The court was selected by the Student Body Tuesday from a field of 10 candidates. These 10 were selected in primary balloting the previous Thursday from a ballot containing the names of all junior and senior women.

Fortress Queen last year and Spring Sports Queen attendant as a freshman, Irma is majoring in English and plans to teach when she graduates this spring. Although she is busy working in the library several hours a day and being active in Castle Singers, Young Republicans and Future Teachers Association, she still finds time for her favorite pastime — playing piano duets with her twin sister, Helen.

Works at Bartels Home

This past summer Irma worked at the Bartels Lutheran Home, doing "just about everything."

The two senior members of the court — Joan Oltman, a member of last summer's Parish Mission Builders Team, and Jean Margheim — are both elementary education majors. Joan, a Fortress Queen as a sophomore and a Spring Sports Queen as a freshman, actively participates in Women's Athletic Association, Choir, FTA and Student Activities Committee.

A Winter Sports Queen as a sophomore, Jean is now busily occupied keeping house for her husband, Art Margheim, in addition to belonging to WAA, FTA and Choir.

Bev Education Major

An elementary education major, Bev Shreve, one of the junior attendants, was also a Winter Sports Queen attendant last year. In addition to leading the yells at the athletic contests, Bev participates in WAA and works in the cafeteria.

The other junior member of the court, Sharon Folkerts, a music major, participates in Music Educators and is the drum major for the band and a soloist in Choir. Sharon, who works as secretary in the office of the Music Department, was a Fall Sports Queen as a freshman.

Greetings Alumni

We extend a most cordial welcome to you, alumni and friends of Wartburg, as you return to the campus for the Homecoming festivities Oct. 26 to 29. Plan to be with us for the parade, the football game, the banquet, the Sunday morning service, the queen's tea and the first number of the current Artist Series, the Stockholm Gosskor concert.

If you have not yet visited the new Fine Arts Center, which was dedicated only recently, you will enjoy seeing the excellent facilities now provided for the Music and Art Departments. You will be interested, too, in seeing how far the addition to Centennial Hall has progressed. And you will want to acquaint yourselves with the plans for the new men's dormitory, the library and the chapel-auditorium.

May you meet many old friends and make many new ones, may you thoroughly enjoy your visit, and may you carry home in your hearts an increased devotion to the great cause which Wartburg endeavors to serve with ever greater efficiency and in an ever enlarging circle.

G. J. Neumann
Vice President

It is especially appropriate that the Homecoming message this year should come from Dr. Neumann, who is serving his 47th year as member of the Wartburg faculty. I know that the alumni and friends of the College will want to visit with Dr. Neumann and thank him for the outstanding service he has rendered our beloved alma mater.

To the words of Dr. Neumann I merely want to add a most cordial welcome to all alumni and friends. Homecoming is more meaningful to all of us because of your presence.

We thank you for your continued interest and your loyal support, and we face the future with greater confidence because we know we can count on you in the building of an ever greater Wartburg College to the glory of God and for the service of our Church and our country.

C. H. Becker
President

Dr. C. H. Becker Iowa Foundation Vice President

President C. H. Becker was elected second vice president of the Iowa College Foundation in Des Moines last week, at a meeting he attended with H. C. Engelbrecht, assistant to the president.

President G. T. Vander Lugt of Central College was re-elected to the presidency of the Foundation. Other members of the executive committee include vice president, J. Raymond Chadwick, president of Iowa Wesleyan; secretary, William Kerstetter, president of Simpson College and treasurer, A. D. Donell, president of Rath Packing Co.

Sebield Bantam Co. of Waverly gave Wartburg $4,000, 10 per cent of this amount going to the Iowa Foundation. Last year Warlburg received $7,500 from the Foundation.

The organization gives contributions to the 19 non-tax-supported schools in Iowa.

Dean Cautions

Dean Earnest Oppermann urges all students to be more careful in regard to cars and car safety.

Cars should always be locked or the keys removed when left on the campus, said Oppermann. Parking lots have specific rules and regulations which should be followed.

Vehicles should not be parked in a way that interferes with pedestrians. Speed regulations should also be watched on the campus.

More Buildings To Be Erected Soon

Church Gives Construction Approval For Men's Dorm, Library, Chapel

By Harold Kurtz
Managing Editor

Continued physical expansion is assured for Wartburg as campus architects Woodburn and O'Neil's drawing boards are kept busy with plans for new buildings.

New buildings scheduled include a men's dorm to be started this spring, a library within a year, additional stadium facilities by next fall and a possible chapel-auditorium within two years.

Action at the recent American Lutheran Church convention gave Wartburg $850,000 to be used for future expansion. Of this sum, $500,000 is a gift of the church, $150,000 will be raised by the college development office and the remainder will be obtained from a church-amortized loan.

Dorm Skatches Ready

Preliminary sketches for the new men's dorm have been completed. To be built directly west of Centennial Hall on North Field, the unit will provide housing for 150 men.

Total cost of the building is estimated at $450,000. About one-half of this sum will be obtained through amortization.

According to college business manager Herb Engelbrecht tentative plans call for built-in furnishings. Construction will begin either this spring or this summer.

To Start Library Later

Work on the proposed library will probably not be started at least for a year. According to Engelbrecht, a special committee is still studying the matter, trying to decide exactly what type of a building is needed.

According to the general campus plan, the library will be erected on the site of the present trailer court. Approximate cost will probably run between $350,000 and $400,000.

The proposed chapel-auditorium, to be built in the inside court of Luther Hall, has been shoved into the background.

Work on the new wing of Centennial Hall is progressing rapidly and should be completed by the beginning of the 1957-58 school year. Contractors expect to have the building completely enclosed by November.

Wing To House 128

To house 128 women, it will cost about $330,000, not including furnishings. Included in the dorm wing will be a housemother's apartment and quarters for the new campus telephone system.

Newest addition to the campus scene is the first unit of an athletic stadium. Costing $17,600 the steel stands will seat a thousand fans.

Formal dedication and first use of the bleachers will occur Nov. 10 at the Wartburg-Luther game. Future plans call for addition of two more units of equal size on both ends of the present unit.

Students Cheer At Last Night's Pep Rally

TRUMPET Gets Eighth All-American

Wartburg TRUMPET is All-American again. This marks the eighth time in nine years the TRUMPET has received the award. Ken Starck, last year's TRUMPET editor, is the first to receive an All-American both semesters although the system of using semester ratings has been in effect for five years.

Aiding Starck in securing this award were Cy Wainscott, managing editor, and Harold Kurtz, news editor. Miss Margaret Wolff, head of the Journalism Department, is publications adviser.

Last year was the first time the TRUMPET was entered in the 751-1,250 enrollment classification.

Superior ratings were received in speeches and interviews, editorials and editorial page features.

PR Adds DeWeerth

Al De Weerth, a 1956 Wartburg graduate, has received a temporary appointment for admissions work in the Public Relations Office here.

Last year he was vice president of the campus chapter of the American Chemical Society and also belonged to the Science Club. He was a chemistry major.

Seniors May Seek Danforth Grants

Wartburg senior men are eligible to apply for the Danforth Foundation Scholarship, an educational trust fund in St. Louis. The applicants must be preparing themselves for careers of college teaching and plan to enter their first year of graduate school in September 1957.

The Foundation welcomes applicants from the areas of natural and biological sciences, social sciences, humanities and all fields of specialization to be found in the undergraduate college.

ALC Gives $300 For Journalists

Scholarships in religious journalism have been granted to Wartburg by the American Lutheran Church Board of Publications.

A $300 fund for students interested in religious journalism has been set aside this year in hopes that this will encourage more students to enter this field.

Mission Builders Named To Work For '57 Summer

Personal interviews started a chain of events for 12 Wartburg students which will conclude next summer when they serve as Parish Mission Builders.

Before going to their various communities, the group will spend a week training at Michigan City, Ind.

Four American Lutheran Church colleges participate in this Parish Mission Builders program — Wartburg, Texas Lutheran, Pacific Lutheran and Capital University.

Gosskor Homecoming Climax

By Marsha Arhart

Climaxing a crowded weekend of Homecoming activities will be the first number of the 1956-57 Artist Series, the renowned Stockholm Gosskor, tomorrow evening at 8 in Knights Gymnasium.

Sweden's most famous boy choir, directed by Dr. Erik Algard, is on its first American tour. The Gosskor has already toured throughout Europe giving concerts in many countries. The ensemble is made up of 40 boys and five adults.

Helge Brilioth, accompanist for the Gosskor, is the son of the present Archbishop of the Swedish Church and is a grandson of the late Archbishop Soderblom.

Sing in Swedish Capital

The Gosskor choir sings in the 16th century Church of St. Mary in the Swedish capital. The Church of St. Mary was founded in 1576 by King John III and is a state church of the Lutheran faith. Located on the heights in the southern part of Stockholm, the church overlooks the picturesque 700-year-old capital often described as "The Venice of the North."

The youthful musical ambassadors will present a program of English, German, Italian and Swedish songs. Director Algard, who has been choir master since 1931, is one of Scandinavia's best known musical figures.

Algard At Academy

Before entering the Royal Academy in Stockholm, where he studied organ and conducting, he was a performer in the Royal Sea Life Guards Regiment, Sweden's best military band.

One of the most gracious of all royal ladies, H.R.H. Princess Sibylla of Sweden, mother of the 10-year-old Crown Prince Carl Gustaf, is sponsoring the American tour. The welfare of Sweden's youth is close to her heart, and she has set an example of selfless work in good and helpful causes.

The Stoekholm Gosskor is not only a choir; it is a music school as well. All the boys accepted receive instrumental training as well as vocal instructions.

In recent years the Gosskor has become an influential unit in the cultural life of the Swedish capital. It is called upon by the city government and the royal court to take part in official and religious celebrations.

'Magnificant Finish'

"The Stockholm Gosskor will be a magnificent finish for the Homecoming weekend," stated Dr. A. W. Swensen, chairman of the Artist Series Committee. "The press acelaims for the Gosskor are very fine, and I feel this will be one of the better programs of the year."

Succeeding the Stockholm Gosskor will be four more regular Artist Series programs and four specialty series. Those included are the Boris Goldovsky's Opera Theater, Nov. 20; the Vienna Octet, Jan. 27; Arthur Fiedler and the Boston Pops Tour Orchestra, Feb. 15; and pianist David Bar-Illan, Feb. 27. The specialty series include an illustrated lecture by Dimitri Rebikoff, "Secrets of the Underwater World — The Red Sea," Nov. 11; harpist Marjorie Newsom, Dec. 2; foreign correspondent and author Louis J. Alber, Jan. 13; and an illustrated lecture, "Indo-China," March 10.

KNIGHT BEAT

by Bob Losbo

The big day is here! We've been working and planning for it for weeks. Some of us, like Homecoming committee chairman, Eugene Van Driel, and Kaslle Kapers director, Gary Volberding, have been planning all summer.

Students have been busily engaged in decorating floats and dorms and houses. The football team has been going through extensive scrimmage in an attempt to give us a Homecoming victory over Central. And bashful collegians are finally getting around to asking those coeds for the dates that they've been waiting for all year.

But despite the work and confusion and turmoil on the part of the students, it is not our day. This day belongs to the businessman or farmer or minister or teacher who may by this time be getting a little grey on top and not exactly down to his best phy. ed. weight. To the mother who had to leave the kids with grandma in order to get to come. Or the loyal alum who came back to Waverly to find old friends even though his Wartburg was at Clinton.

Today, students, we are as unimportant as our Homecoming float will be on Sunday morning. This is the one day of the year when we go unnoticed by everyone, save parents who may be coming to see how the place looks once again.

And I think we'll give up the limelight willingly, because all of us, especially the seniors, can look ahead to the day when we graduate. A day that will probably be both the happiest and the saddest in our lives.

For we, like all the alums with orange tags pinned to their suits, will know that physically we are no longer a part of Wartburg College. That we are an outsider. That we just don't belong any more. But it's a fall day like this every year, with excitement in the air and nostalgia hanging like a low cloud, that we realize that in our hearts and in our spirit it is impossible to ever really gradnate from Wartburg College.

HOMECOMING

I have returned to the same old place,
Walked alone in the whispering wind,
Mingled again with the eager race,
Talked with an all-but-forgotten friend.

I wandered along unlighted halls,
Picked up my past and savored each page.
My shadow was immense spilt on the wall.
I smiled at something lost to age.

On that Autumn night my youth passed by.
My eyes grew wet with happy pain.
The dying eagle once more can fly.
Oh, Wartburg College, I'm home again.

FOOTNOTES TO FAITH

God Gives to All

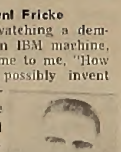
By Vincent Fricke

As I stood watching a demonstration of an IBM machine, the thought came to me, "How could anyone possibly invent such an intricate machine like this? It must have taken a 'brain' to figure it out.



Fricke

I'm sure that all of us at one time or another have said the same thing to ourselves. We watch a complicated experiment and wish we could do it. Or we see a 4.0 student and wish we had his mental ability.

Then another thought came to me as I was standing there: "It isn't the man who invents these things, but it is God who enables man to think through these things. It is the Mind behind the mind."

That Mind gives to us many gifts which we are to use. He has given us all the mental ability to use them. And if we refuse to use these gifts we will lose them. As far back as history records, man has been constantly struggling for new haights, but as soon as man gives up hope, he is lost. Today so many of us tend to give up when the going gets rough. We lose sight of the goal.

I am reminded of a passage in Romans 5:1-5, "Therefore, since we are justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ." Through Him we have obtained access to this grace in which we stand, and we rejoice in our hope of sharing the glory of God. More than that, we rejoice that suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, and hope does not disappoint us, because God's love has been poured into our hearts through the Holy Spirit which has been given to us."

Therefore, we must keep in our hearts that whatever we are called to face we know it is for Him.

God has given us the mental ability to solve our problems, but it is up to us to ask for His help. God has given us this mental ability for the specific purpose of honoring and glorifying Him. And by this honoring and glorifying, we acknowledge God as the giver of all things to all people.

Let us always remember that God gives to everyone, but it is up to the individual to accept His gift.

World May See Hope For Poland

By Don Oberdorfer

To all appearances "Rock and Roll" has finally come to the great bear of Russia. The "rock" resounded throughout the halls of that great dance barn, the Kremlin, a few days ago when the astounding news came of Polish uprisings. The "roll" followed close on its heels when the Commie bosses learned of Poland's, so to speak, bloodless "Coup d'Etat" in the Communist party.

Oberdorfer

After Marshal Tito's example of kicking the "gift horse" in the teeth, the Poles decided to follow in his somewhat obscure footsteps. Polish communists cleaned out their politburo with the ousting of one of Russia's favorite stooges. Marshal Rokossovsky, pro-Stalin member of Russia's politburo, was booted out as First Secretary of the party and pro-Tito Gomulka was enthroned on the high seat of honor.

Communist Party boss Khrushchev immediately flew to Warsaw to confer with the top men in Poland's party. This was done, perhaps, in the hope of stemming the anti-Kremlin movement before it got started in the rest of Europe. One of his first demands was in an effort to replace Rokossovsky in power. This, as was expected, went over like a lead balloon.

Seeing that negotiations were going to be of very little help, Khrushchev began to shout about crushing the ungrateful pups to their bloodless marrows. This, however, made no impression on the "oh, so frightened" Poles. They had smelled fresh air and were determined to get more.

Communists or not, Poland's governing members seem to want to show that life under their rule will not mirror the life as seen in the Red regime in Russia. Examples of this soon came out. Some of the more pertinent grievances, such as food supplies, law and monetary deficencies, were dealt with. Gomulka, realizing that it will take some time before Poland can gain full freedom from Russia in the military sphere, is aiming at lifting Poland from its economic depression.

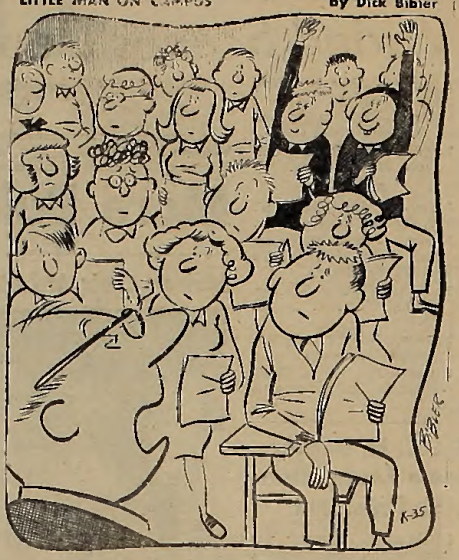
LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler



"Now that you have exchanged and graded papers — do we have anyone who made a '100'?"

Facing Frontiers Today's Challenge

Arnold Toynbee, noted British historian, is famous for his theory of challenge and response, which emphasizes that a civilization can not remain static but must be continually changing and meeting new challenges.

This lies in with the Homecoming theme, "Facing Frontiers." A college is a great deal like a civilization. Each year finds new frontiers to be faced — increased enrollments, an expanded curriculum, more buildings and a multitude of others. Wartburg during the past decade has definitely shown this to be true.

Enrollment marks are set each year, only to be shattered the next. Buildings are constructed yearly, but the demand makes additional facilities imperative.

It looks as though this is a vicious circle. But is it vicious? Far from it. Many of the old grads here today can recall when dreams of a "Greater Wartburg" meant 200 students and possibly an expanded campus of three buildings. Now the present question is a "Greater Wartburg" of 1,500, 1,700, 2,000 or more. Who knows?

Each additional student means a new frontier for the college. Every new problem must be met — successfully — and each successfully met problem results in additional frontiers to be faced.

But Wartburg is meeting the challenges as they present themselves. What future frontiers hold can not be readily ascertained. However, if the college is to continue to grow as it has been growing, then it is up to each student, alumnus, grad and friend to do his part in making it certain that these challenges are met and that these frontiers are faced.

With confidence in the future, with a look toward the past and with a faith in God as strong as that of the founders, these challenges can be successfully negotiated, and these frontiers will be faced with spirits knowing that not only can the impossible be met, but it can be conquered. —H. P. K.

IT WASN'T the Ku Klux Klan cross, but rather a bonfire replacement that burned brightly on north field at the pep rally following Kastle Kapers.

VOLLMER HOUSE BOYS (with the help of James Thurber) satirized professionalism at the college level durring last Thursday's special Homecoming convocation.

AFTER KAPERS last night, students and visitors packed the Den catching up on cokes and talk, while others feverishly worked finishing floats and cleaning rooms.

BALLOONS BLEW in the bright sunshine of Homecoming weekend as Student Body President Don Altmann checks novelties sales yesterday.

YELLS REPLACED speakers as Thursday's convo got festivities started with a program ranging from locomotives (the yell kind) to Vollmer House.

TWO MONTHS' growth came off in two minutes last night as beard-growing contestants raced against the stop watch in an attempt to be the first to emerge with a smooth chin.

Past History Of Homecoming Varied With Many Old, Inherited Traditions

By Mary Maas

In 1949 the Rev. C. G. Shalkhauser, former Public Relations director at Wartburg, summed up the development of Homecoming on the Wartburg College campus by saying that it is about as involved as the history of the college. This is due to the fact that traditions were carried over from the various schools that merged to form the present Wartburg College.

Numerous changes have been made during the last 20 years, but information as to what happened prior to this is rather scarce. Until the year 1948 Wartburg's Homecoming was promoted directly by the Public Relations office, but in 1948 many of the responsibilities were placed in the hands of the first student chairman.

Kastle Kapers was introduced in the 1940's. Before that, students tried to crash the local theater on that night. Kastle Kapers has proved successful in the effort to keep merrymaking on campus. For a number of years when the performances were given in the Little Theater, two presentations were necessary to accommodate all who wished to attend.

One of the older features of Homecoming is the parade. It is greatly enlarged from what it was years ago. For years the local businessmen did not sponsor the floats, and a small pep band, minus uniforms, took the place of the marching band. Because of the small size of the band, it was transported on a truck.

Physical strength was tested by a tug of war contest between the upperclassmen and the freshmen.

TO Adds Balloons

Adding special importance to the first touchdown was the releasing of balloons containing Wartburg name tags. This was added to the Homecoming game about ten years ago.

Other traditional parts of Homecoming are the Sunday morning church services at St. Paul's and the Queen's reception in the afternoon.

Some games have been won and some games have been lost, but over the years the queens, banquet speakers and the games will all be remembered.

Queen Emilie In '46

Homecoming of 1946 had Emilie Hannemann as queen, and Wartburg was victorious over Buena Vista, 12-7.

The year 1947 brought a 27-20 win over Luther. Barbara Becker was queen and Dr. Walter H. Seegers of Wayne University, Detroit, Mich., was the banquet speaker.

Banquet speakers in 1948 were the Rev. A. E. Schuelmacher of Des Moines, the Rev. Fred J. Landdeck of Dubuque and Prof. Alfred Engelbrecht of Iowa State College, Ames. Ruth Engelbrecht reigned over the festivities, which included a 12-7 win for Luther.

In 1949 Westmar was walloped 31-7 while Katherine Smith was queen. The Rev. Norbert Augst of Clara City, Minn., was banquet speaker.

Luey Wenzler was queen when Wartburg lost to Buena Vista, 25-13, in 1950. Prof. Martin J. Heinecken of Lutheran Theological Seminary, Philadelphia, was banquet speaker.

Leshensky '51 Speaker

The Rev. Eugene Leshensky of Cedarburg, Wis., was the banquet speaker in 1951. Jean Winnie was queen and Luther edged out Wartburg 34-0.

The year 1952 found Betty von Fischer as queen and the Rev. Martin Bredow of Clinton as banquet speaker. Wartburg won 14-12.

Janice Goeman was queen and Paul Schoenbeck of Cedar Rapids was banquet speaker in 1953. Luther won 26-2. A 40-12 win over Upper Iowa brought the Victory Bell back in 1954 while Nancy Graese reigned as queen. The Rev. Leonard Fritschel of Treynor spoke at the banquet.

Mary Hoh was queen last year when Parsons gave Wartburg a 19-6 loss. The Rev. Erwin Groth of Pomeroy gave the banquet speech.

Homecomings come and go. They will be attended by students, faculty, alumni and townspeople alike. All may forget who won, who was queen or who spoke at the banquet, but there will always be something remembered by everyone, be it work or fun.

Debaters Attend Grinnell Session

Wartburg's debate squad, directed by Robert Smith, Speech Department, attended a preliminary discussion session at Grinnell College yesterday and this morning, with the group considering "What should be the policy of the United States regarding economic aid to foreign countries?"

Those participating from Wartburg included freshmen Dean Engbrecht and Kathryn Koob and sophomores Larry Achorn, Wilbert Everts, Margaretha Angell and Ralph Schwartz.

Ride Map?

DEAN'S OFFICE HAS LISTING

Dean of Students office has completed the formulation of a road map to aid students in finding the names of others who come from their home vicinities.

This book contains the maps of the states with small strips of colored paper indicating the homes of Wartburg students and also in which class they are. This should greatly aid students in finding rides home. Dean Earnest Oppermann predicted.

Fall Senior Day Nov. 10

Invitations have been sent to high school seniors to attend Wartburg's Fall Senior Day Saturday, Nov. 10.

Students attending this event will have many opportunities to tour the campus, council with experienced educators in many fields, get information on a career, see a school in action and meet other future Wartburg students.

The following schedule will be observed: 9:9 a.m., registration and tours; 9:30-10 a.m., opening program; 10-10:40 a.m., first counseling session; 10:45-11:25 a.m., second counseling session; 11:30-12:10 p.m., third counseling session; 12:10-12:45 p.m., guests at college cafeteria; 12:45-1:30 p.m., tours and free time; 1:30 p.m., football, guests of the college.

The public relations office has already received 28 applications, which is ahead of the number of applications last year at this time.

Solem Water Colors In All-Iowa Show

John Solem, sophomore, has had two pictures selected for the All-Iowa water color show. The exhibit is composed of entries from the midwestern states and is sponsored by the Art Center and Women's Club of Sioux City.

Solem's paintings are entitled "Signal and Landscape" and "Dark Flight." Both are scenes of the local campus.

Mag Prints Speech

Dr. Edwin T. Sandberg, of the Wartburg English department, has been notified that his article "American and the Danish Folk High School" has been accepted to be printed by School and Society Magazine.

Miss Wright Likes New Quarters

By Kathy Franz

"Now we have a place where art can come into its own on our campus."

This is the reaction of Miss Helen Wright, head of the Art Department, to the new Fine Arts building.

After 21 years at Wartburg, she feels that art now has a "proper place to display its achievements." Miss Wright, who has 13 special art students this year, is hopeful that the new facilities will focus more attention on art and bring in more art students.

"Although the teaching of art is my main responsibility," she stated, "I do have charge of other art functions on campus."

An example of this is the continued exhibitions of current art which she arranges.

Wright Lauds Exhibits

"I don't think any other school this size has as many such exhibitions as we have," she said, referring to the monthly projects with pride.

The art work in the Fine Arts Center and in the Student Memorial Union is her responsibility.

Miss Wright, along with her students, has many projects which aid campus activities. At Christmas they design and print the covers for the programs of "Christmas at Wartburg" and also design the tableau for the program.

Miss Wright, a graduate of the Art Institute in Chicago, also finds time for creative art herself. She is mainly interested in sculpture, the field in which she earned her master's degree from the State University of Iowa, but also paints for her own enjoyment and relaxation. Her work has a religious theme and is different from much of the religious art.

'Religious Art Lacks Spirit'

"I particularly object to much of the religious art one sees beeause it is so very humanistic and lacks spiritual qualities," she explained. "For example," she continued, "angels and saints on Christmas cards are in very 'fleshy' flesh. They lose their spiritual uplift in this and become more like representative portraits of Hollywood actors and actresses than an aid to worship."

In telling about her own work, examples of which can be seen on display in the Fine Arts Center, she said, "I do things which express spiritual moods and feelings rather than physical realities or beings."

Miss Wright has an attitude toward her art students which is different from that of many teachers. She believes that "everyone should have an art experience whether or not he or she is a potential artist."

Man Has Unique Gift

"It seems to me," she went on, "that only man has the God-given gift to appreciate and enjoy what he sees. In a Christian school especially, we should develop that God-given gift.

"We have to engage in a thing to appreciate it. A man who has never painted will not appreciate a painting as much as one who has painted — whether that one was successful or not.

"I've seen that proven many times by the students in beginning art classes. They come in with no appreciation or interest in art and leave with an entirely different attitude."

Green students who found themselves enrolled in an art course at Wartburg took away from that class a little more than the natural ability they brought to it, for each one has received a share of Miss Wright's philosophy.

Hulme To Speak At Discussion Sun.

"Facing Frontiers in Our Inner Life" will be the topic of the Bible Discussion Groups as Dr. William Hulme of Wartburg Seminary speaks to the group on Sunday morning at 9 at St. Paul's Parish House.

Dr. Hulme, who headed Wartburg's College Christianity Department for five years, graduated from Capital University and Seminary and received his Ph.D. degree from Boston University.

Before coming to Wartburg College in 1949, Dr. Hulme had served as a pastor in Columbus, Ohio, for several years.

Campbell Adviser

Robert Campbell, chosen adviser by the Sophomore Class, has consented to accept the position, soph president Jim Schwarz announced at a recent class meeting.

Other business decided was leveling dues of 50 cents for the year and a plan for the class float, presented by Ronald Pfohl and approved by the class.

Seniors Pick Dr. Lenski

Dr. Gerhard E. Lenski, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, Washington, D. C., since 1920, was chosen commencement speaker at the senior class meeting recently.

A graduate of Capital University, Columbus, Ohio, Lenski is the author of "Marriage in the Lutheran Church" and other volumes, in addition to his column "Washington Comments," appearing in the Lutheran Standard and other periodicals.

In other developments, the class adopted a permanent constitution and appointed Bob Weishoff to serve on the Union Council, filling a vacancy arising from Erland Eberhard's failure to return this year.

Cy Wainscott was appointed senior class project chairman, and Bob Geiszler will be committee head for obtaining commencement announcements. The class is recommending a standard announcement to be used permanently in years to come.

Van Driel Ready to Relax

By Marsha Arhart

Tomorrow evening as the last of the Wartburg alumni leave the campus, senior Eugene Van Driel can settle back, be relieved of his tremendous duties as Homecoming chairman and look back on many pleasant experiences and memories.

For the past half year, since his election last May, Gene has been busily planning and lining up committees for the 1956 Homecoming weekend.

"Preparations for Homecoming came along just wonderfully," he exclaimed, "Everything should go along smoothly, and we have even put in an order for nice weather."

Estimating an expected crowd of two or three thousand, he continued by explaining several of the new Homecoming ideas.

"Last night there was an alumni chapel service with President Becker speaking," he said. "This evening there will be a parents' and visitors' reception between 7:30 and 9:30 in the Alumni Lounge. The reception will give parents a chance to get together and meet each other and will provide a social hour for those not attending the banquet. We hope these innovations will become annual events."

Button Big Worry

Eugene expressed his biggest worry as picking the Homecoming button design. He submitted a general sketch to the novelty company, and it presented three or four possible designs.

"It took me most of the summer to decide on the final design. I was working with some Central students on a construction job," he admitted, "and they even got a chance to see it."

He also expressed much praise for the cooperation received from the Waverly businessmen. Several downtown stores donated gifts to be given for prizes in the beard-growing contest and the Knight-naming contest.

'Active' Good Description

"Active" is a good description for the Rock Valley senior. A pre-law student, he is majoring in business administration. His many senior activities include being treasurer of the Young Republicans Club, vice president of the Business Student Association, vice president of Grossmann Hall Council, Public Relations committee of the Student Senate, Wartburg Choir and Ushers Club.

Naming his hobbies, music and golfing, Gene laughingly stated that he didn't have much time for either.

Gratefully thanking all his committees Van Driel said, "I had wonderful cooperation from everyone. There are so many people to thank that I can only mention a few. I think everybody will agree that the three-color pennants that John Solem designed are very effective.

"My greatest happiness from this position comes when I look back, see that Homecoming has drawn the Student Body together and see that everyone has worked and helped to make this Homecoming a success."

Ushers At Gosskor

The 60 members of Wartburg's Ushers Club will do their first formal ushering of the year when the Stockholm Gosskor presents the year's first Artist Series program Sunday night.

The club has already ushered for three other events this year. They include the Castle Singers, Wartburg Band and Jean Abramson concert Oct. 18, the Fine Arts Center dedication service Oct. 19 and the Wartburg Choir concert.

A FEW HOURS MORE and Homecoming will be nothing more than a maze of final reports for general HC chairman Eugene Van Driel. Elected last spring, Van Driel spent the summer working out final plans of this week's festivities.

Everything from button designs to themes and slogans occupied his time as hours spent in work are culminated by Homecoming today.

What's With HC Weather? History Shows It's Good

By Joan Pape

Believe it or not, if history repeats itself, the weather for Homecoming should be good this year. According to the records, the Wartburg Knights are generally favored with fair weather, in spite of the fact that Homecoming usually comes late in the fall.

Many may remember last year, when, according to the TRUMPET, we had "rain, snow, sub-freezing temperatures and a gusty snowstorm" during the game. Some fans say that snowplows were almost required for clearing the field before the teams could play!

No Sun In '51

Equally discouraging was the weather of 1951, when a sub-freezing temperature which "numbed the hands and turned the field into a cement slab" was again recorded.

Perhaps such weather as this accounts for the general feeling of pessimism which pervades the campus when anyone mentions the weather in connection with Homecoming.

"It's nice today, but we'll have a blizzard Saturday," is the usual prediction.

In fact, the words of the three witches in "Macbeth," "When shall we three meet again, in thunder, lightning or in rain?" probably express the feeling of many of the alumni.

Fair Skies Rule

But actually, as far back as 1937, fair skies have been the rule rather than the exception. In 1948, one enthusiastic writer went so far as to say that the weather was "perfect."

And if you are still unconvinced, the Homecoming chairman himself has stated that good weather has been specially ordered from the weather bureau. Anyway, since "Fair is foul, and foul is fair" (to quote the three witches again) we'll see you all at the game this afternoon—no matter what the weather.

Bomhoff Heads IM; Flag To Cavaliers

By Wilbur Flachman

Bill Bomhoff, this week was appointed chairman of the Wartburg College intramural program. Bomhoff succeeds Mel Frahm, who resigned earlier to devote more time to his other activities.

Highlight of this week's action was the championship game in flag football. Grossmann III nailed down a 13-7 win over Larson-Wuebbens to claim the trophy in a game that was a battle from start till finish.

* * * * *

Grossmann III received the opening kickoff, but was forced to punt when the tough Larson - Wuebbens line held for four downs. The Cavaliers got the pigskin back in possession on a pass interception on the opposition's second play from scrimmage. They then moved the ball up to the four-yard line, where a fumble was recovered by Larson-Wuebbens.

Hemilton

Boyenge Scores TD

However, Jim Boyenga of Grossmann got some good blocks and broke loose on a 60-yard touchdown jaunt midway in the second quarter, to make it a 6-0 lead. Don Hamilton passed to Wilbur Flachman for the extra point, and the score at half-time still stood 7-0.

Early in the third period, Bill Riggal took a pass from Duane Carmes and twisted his way through a host of would-be flag grabbers, for a 40-yard gain. He was stopped on the one-yard line by Fred Jaspers, but on the next play Riggal crashed over tackle to score. The point after boot was good, and the score was knotted at 7-7.

The ball changed hands several times before III stopped a Larson-Wenbbens thrust on the 8-yard line. From here the Grossmann III passing attack took over. Bob Eichele hit Fritz Fritschel with a 15-yard gainer, and Don Hamilton made a sensational catch of a Jaspers heave, for 30 more yards.

After two running plays gained only short yardage, a screen pass clicked and moved the ball down to the four-yard line. From this point, center Craig Wason crossed the double chalks on a beautifully executed center-keep play that caught the opposing completely off balance. The point after attempt was a failure, and Grossmann III led 13-7.

L-W Drives Falter

Twice in the final canto, the Larson-Weubbens squad penetrated deep into scoring territory, but fine defensive plays by Don Staude and Vic Baderschneider, threw them for a loss on each occasion. Outstanding on defense for the losers were Gary Moody and Duane Boehmke.

In Wednesday night's bowling activity, Fred Jaspers' keglers pulled into a first-place tie with Dick Chellevold's team by defeating Chellevold's crew 3-1. In other action Berry Kline's squad downed Wilbur Flachman's cellar dwellers, 4-0, and the Faculty whipped Ed Schaley's lads 3-1. Jim Louy's outfit won over Vic Baderschneider's team 3-1.

High game for the night and the highest game this year—was a 256, rolled by Dave Mueller. Mueller also had the high series with a 508 total. Close behind was Walt Voecks of the Faculty with a 502.

Knights Battle Central In Rugged Test

Jomen Face Surprising Central Looking For First Conference Win

By Bill Melvin
Sports Editor

Wartburg expects rugged going against Central at Waverly Municipal Field this afternoon as the Knights and the Dutchmen meet head-on in a big Homecoming battle.

Stinging from three consecutive loop losses, Coach Johansen's charges are going up against a surprising Central team that boasts a 4-1 record and second place in the Iowa Conference.

Dutch Have 19 Lettermen

The Dutch have 19 lettermen on hand from the team that lost to Wartburg last season. The victory over Central last season was the Knights' only one in conference competition, and the two teams ended the year in a last-place tie.

After Simpson pounded them 32-6 in this year's opener, the flying Dutchmen rebounded to upset co-favorites Luther and Parsons on successive weekends.

Two weeks ago Central downed Upper Iowa 15-6, and last week the Pella squad reached new heights by crushing Buena Vista 34-6.

Tysseling Coach

Coached by Richard "Babe" Tysseling, the improving Dutchmen run mainly from a short punt formation but also alternate a few plays from the T-formation.

Although the Central defense has been stingy this season, it is the offense that has made the team dangerous. The Dutch have scored 81 points in their five conference games.

Fullback Vern Boelkens, playing his fourth year at Central, has been the big gun in the running attack this year, as he is able to run both up the middle and around the flanks.

Backs Potent

The entire Central backfield, however, is good in speed, and its passing attack is another cause of concern to the Knights.

Besides worrying about the Central offense, Coach Norm Johansen has been busy trying to improve his own team's attack. The Knights have managed just one touchdown in the last three games.

Fumbles, pass interceptions and inability to move when deep in opponents' territory again slowed Knight chances in last week's loss to Dubuque.

Wartburg Has Third Defeat

Dubuque's passing combination of Marvin Johannsen and Ray Harbrecht proved too much for the Knights last Saturday as the Spartans roared to a 20-0 Dubuque U. Homecoming victory.

Quarterback Johannsen connected with Harbrecht for a 45-yard touchdown scamper on the first play from scrimmage and then iced the contest in the fourth period with a 25-yard touchdown shot to Harbrecht.

Dubuque's third touchdown came in the third quarter when halfback Fritz Hayes capped a Spartan march with a one-yard plunge.

Wartburg, again plagued by inability to move when close to the opponents' goal, failed three times within the Dubuque 10-yard line.

Knights lost the ball three times on fumbles and twice on pass interceptions.

Ax Starts Cage Drills November 1

Basketball practice will begin for this year's Wartburg netsters on Nov. 1 with Ax Bundgaard back at his old post as head mentor.

Earnie Oppermann coached last year's team that wound up second in the Iowa Conference while Bundgaard was on a leave of absence to work toward a doctorate at the State University of Iowa and coach the freshman team there.

Individual Workouts

Bundgaard

"Some of the boys are working out during October on their own," said Bundgaard, "but we aren't allowed to start regular practice until November."

Wartburg should be able to put an experienced squad on the floor this season with a large number of men who saw varsity action last year back in school and expecting to report in November.

Four Seniors Returning

Seniors expected to return include Al Bahlmann, Fritz Fritschel, Art Margheim and Maynard Midtgaard. Juniors who saw action last season include John Adix, Mel Frahm and Don Hamilton. Sophomores expected to return include Jim Schwarz, Wayne Slack, Gil Wessel and Dennis Wessels.

A number of freshman prospects with outstanding high school records are also expected to try for a varsity berth.

Why Mr. Johnson Wishes He Were 20

• The other day Frank Johnson, age 45, saw his LB agent and bought a $10,000 BROTHERHOOD PROVIDER policy to help protect his family and to provide benefits for retirement.

Now here's what made Frank wish he were 20 again . . .

The annual premium at Frank's age is $352.20. If Frank were 20 years old, his premium would be only $156.90 — a saving of $193.30 a year. At age 45, he'd have cash values of $3,156.30, plus $1,686.60 in dividends (at present rate). And his family would have been protected for the full $10,000 during the entire time!

Favorable rates is another reason why hundreds of students start their insurance program with Lutheran Brotherhood right now while they're in school. The sooner you start, the lower the premium . . . the greater the benefits. Write . . .

Rehearsals for "Harvey," Wartburg Players' production to be presented in the Little Theater Nov. 15, 16 and 17, began last week, according to Charles Dickson, director.

The opening production of the season, as it has been in the past, will be presented theater-in-the-round.

Cast Listed

Freshman Kathryn Koob will portray the lovable Veta Louise Simmons, and sophomore Louis Becker is cast as Elwood P. Dowd, her "rabbit seeing" son.

Freshmen Melba Neumann and Irmgard Feldmann are playing Myrtle Mae Simmons and Mrs. Ethel Chauvenet, while the parts of William Chumley and E. J. Lofgren will be portrayed by Don Oberdorfer and Charles Bichel, both seniors.

Melvin Plays Dr. Sanderson

Bill Melvin and Ron Korfmacher are cast as Dr. Sanderson and Judge Gaffney, while another junior, Jon Tehven, will depict Duane Wilson.

Freshmen Eleanor Bauer and Diane Gilbert will represent Betty Chumley and Ruth Kelley.

Crew heads include sophomores Gwen Scrivner and Joan Pape, props and make-up; Gary Volberding, senior, lights; freshman Bob Fries, publicity; Jim Roever, senior, costumes; Jan Froelich, sophomore, house manager; and senior Gloria Schlange, stage manager.

In keeping with tradition, the initial performance will again be a formal "First Nighter." Refreshments will be served as the audience is invited backstage to meet the cast and crews.

"THE PLAY'S the thing" as Ron Korfmacher and Bill Melvin listen to director Charles Dickson expound on the coming production of Harvey.

Young Lauds Union

An article on Wartburg's Student Memorial Union by Dr. Wm. L. Young, executive secretary of the Board of Higher Education of the American Lutheran Church, appeared in a recent issue of "College and University Business," a magazine published for presidents and business managers of institutions of higher education.

In the article, Dr. Young describes the Wartburg Union as a "fine, practicable building which many another small college might do well to emulate." The three-page story is illustrated with photographs and drawings.

Schmidt Writes Exam For Doctor's Degree

The Rev. Karl Schmidt, Christianity professor and assistant college chaplain, recently completed an exam on Catholic Doctrine and History at the University of Iowa.

This exam completes the credits for Professor Schmidt's doctorate degree with the exception of his dissertation, which he hopes to complete during the summer of 1957.

Student Vespers Unique In Schools

According to a survey conducted by Duane Matz, Student Senate Religious Activities chairman, Wartburg is the only one of 25 church-related colleges which has a voluntary evening chapel.

Most of the colleges contacted combine chapel and convocation, requiring attendance at both.

"A unique feature in our worship program is the amount of student participation. This will continue as long as students are willing to prepare themselves as adequately as possible," stated the Rev. Edwin Schick, college chaplain.

Schick

Chapel services are the direct responsibility of the chaplain. Schick works with student coordinator Stan Vogel in planning services.

Attempts are being made this year to include area pastors in the evening services as well as students who are not members of Chi Rho or Phebes.

Alumni Set For Elections; . Resolutions Voting Today

Wartburg College Alumni Association was scheduled to elect six officers and vote on eight resolutions, pending consideration by the Alumni Board of Directors during its annual alumni luncheon being held at Carver's restaurant at noon today.

Walter Fredrick ('39) of Garnavillo was presented by the nominating committee for the presidency. Nominated for the vice presidency were Bruno Schlachtenhaufen ('35) and Marvin Kampfe ('42). Ray Downing ('26) and Helen Sprenger ('55) are vying for the position of treasurer.

Nominees for the Board of Directors are as follows: Illinois District, H. J. Haberaecker ('35) and Hildegard Moehl ('22); Wisconsin District, Helen Drewelow ('48) and James Hughes ('43); and member-at-large, James Zuehl ('49) and Omar Bonderud ('50).

Resolutions To Board

Resolutions Committee of the Alumni Association presented the following resolutions yesterday to the Alumni Board of Directors:

—That the Board of Directors of the Wartburg College Alumni Association petition the Board of Regents and Administration of Wartburg College to add to its administrative staff a Director of Alumni Affairs.

B.A. Grads Eligible

—That a new policy be established for the Class Agent, namely, that only the B.A. graduates be included on the Class Agent's list and that another agent be secured either for all 2-year grads or for special segments such as 2-year teachers, 2-year parish workers, etc., and that the remaining students — those who dropped from school or who completed pre-professional courses — be contacted by the Alumni Office at intervals similar to those which the Class Agents use.

—That the Wartburg College Alumni Association encourage the establishment of such chapters (the organization of alumni chapters in various population centers) and that the alumni officers and the alumni office take whatever action is needed to activate such units as soon as possible and in as many centers as seems feasible with existing staff and facilities.

—That we, the Board of Directors of the Wartburg College Alumni Association, condone and approve that action (taken by the Board of Directors of the Wartburg Alumni Association to fill vacated offices) as consistent with the intent and purpose of the Constitution.

—That the Board of Directors commend the executive committee for its action (the sponsorship of an orientation dinner for the graduating Wartburg students of 1956) and encourage it to continue a program of orienting alumni-to-be.

Thanks To Convention

—That we express the appreciation of the Wartburg College Alumni Association for the action taken at Blue Island convention authorizing $850,000 in new construction for Wartburg College.

—That the Alumni Association authorize the Board of Directors through its executive committee to organize an Alumni Study Committee which can offer assistance to the College in this planning (the growth and expansion of Wartburg College).
